BIG White spring fest

Even though this ski season is coming to a close there is still a bit of skiing to be had in the Spring. Big White was blessed with lots of early snow and the snow has been falling steady since.

BIG WHITE, April 5–12, 2014

We will be closing out Big White's season in British Columbia, Canada. We will be flying into Kelowna and staying slope side at the White Crystal Inn. Lodging, lift tickets, nightly après ski parties and transportation to/from Kelowna are included for the low price of $699 per person based on double occupancy. You are on your own to get air. West Jet and United have round trip non-stop air fares from $300 out of Los Angeles. West Jet is also available out of Las Vegas, Phoenix and San Diego.

week early to enjoy the area. We will be staying in Sunriver and hope to do some bike riding, hiking and kayaking. Let us know if you are interested in joining us.

Even if you can't attend the whole weekend, it's worth it to make an appearance for the Silent Auction where you can bid on more than $100,000 worth of lodging, lift tickets, golf and product. New this year will be a "Taste of Bend" featuring local brews, wine & food.

BIKING fridays

exciting CHANGES

for skiers in the west

Double Super Halfpipe

Some of the world's best snowboarders will descend on Aspen March 19-23, 2014 to try their hand on a halfpipe—or two—that is unlike anything done before. For this Red Bull Signature Series event, two competition-spec halfpipes will be constructed side-by-side, complete with rails, wall rides, channels and other unique features.

The Red Bull Double Pipe contest will air on NBC, Saturday Apr. 12 as part of the Red Bull Signature Series. The event will be free and open to the public.

New Resort for Utah

A new resort in Cache County, Utah, (close to Logan) is set to open its doors next season, bringing the state's total to 15 mountain resorts.

Called Cherry Peak Ski Resort, the small 200-acre resort will position itself as a teaching mountain. The resort will feature three lifts, a small lodge and a parking lot for 300 cars.

The base lies at 5,800 feet and the area receives 322 inches of snow annually, but snowmaking will still be installed.

Vail Removes Pot Shacks

Despite the legalization of private use of marijuana in Colorado, public use of pot remains illegal. And so, over the past several weeks, Vail Resorts (VR) and the U.S. Forest Service (USFS) have destroyed a number of structures associated with prohibited marijuana use.

The structures had been constructed illegally on USFS lands within the permitted boundaries of the company's four Colorado resorts—Vail, Beaver Creek, Breckenridge and Keystone.

Wolf Mountain's New Owner

Another local's area is getting a new lease on life: Skyline Mountain Base, an investment group comprised of local and European investors, has acquired the Wolf Mountain ski resort from America First Credit Union.

Wolf Mountain fell into bankruptcy in 2010, and parts of the property were sold at auction. The resort itself did not sell, but eventually emerged from bankruptcy thanks to America First.

Skyline plans no immediate changes to the resort, other than expanding the operating hours, and opening on Sundays.

2012-13 was a surprisingly GOOD YEAR

Despite late and so-so snowfall and average visitation, U.S. winter resorts posted a record level of operating profit in 2012-13, and their second-highest gross revenue.

The final estimate of 56.9 million visits was up 11.7%. The bottom line is all positive.

The report, prepared by RRC Assocs. and the National Ski Areas Assn., was based on data from 112 resorts. ♦

Beaver to Install Hybrid

Beaver Creek is replacing its primary express quad from the base area with a new high-speed combination chairlift and gondola.

The new lift will increase uphill capacity by as much as 35 percent through the use of alternating 10-passenger gondola cabins and six-person chairs.

The new lift is expected to be in place for the 2014-15 ski and snowboard season, during which Beaver Creek will host the 2015 World Alpine Ski Championships.

Lawsuit Against Alta

Wasatch Equality, a Utah nonprofit corporation, and four individual snowboarders filed a lawsuit in the United States District Court for the District of Utah against Alta Ski Area and the United States Forest Service, seeking to permanently enjoin Alta from enforcing its anti-snowboarder policy and snowboarding ban.

The plaintiffs also seek a declaration from the Court that Alta's snowboarding prohibition, as enforced by the Forest Service, violates the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution and is therefore unlawful.

Michael Schumacher

Muscle atrophy is reportedly taking a significant toll on Formula One racer Michael Schumacher, who's been in an artificial coma for 12 weeks after suffering an accident while skiing off-piste at Meribel on December 29, 2013.

Schumacher, 44, was skiing in unmarked, advanced terrain above treeline when he fell heavily, hitting his head on a rock and splitting his helmet.

Authorities have credited the helmet for preventing immediate death, but his prognosis is unknown. He suffered extensive brain injuries, but doctors have withheld any definitive word on his condition.

His medical team at the University of Grenoble has slowly been reducing the drugs that have kept him unconscious since immediately after the accident.

Patroller Dies in Avalanche

On Tuesday, March 4, 2014, Wolf Creek Ski Area avalanche technician and senior patroller Colin Sutton was caught in an avalanche while conducting an exploration and research mission via helicopter on Conejos Peak in Southwest Colorado.

The avalanche occurred at about 1:30 p.m. He was immediately dug out by his partner and two other emergency personnel, then airlifted by a Medevac helicopter to the emergency room at Mercy Regional Hospital in Durango, Colo., where he was pronounced dead at 4:30 p.m. ♦

x-games ASPEN

Aspen Gets 5 X Games

Aspen Skiing Company (ASC) and ESPN have reached an agreement that will have the X Games calling Aspen/Snowmass its home until 2019.

Now in its 13th year, ESPN chose to continue its long-term partnership with ASC, already the longest-tenured X Games host.

ASC was ultimately chosen over seven other bids that were submitted over the last 18 months, including Park City, Utah and Squaw Valley and Heavenly in California. Squaw Valley and Heavenly even submitted a joint bid that would have separated X Games events into two venues.

Last month ESPN announced it would not continue the X Games events in Barcelona, Munich, Foz do Iguaçu, Brazil and Tignes, France.

ESPN's X Games showcased over 200 athletes from around the world in Aspen from January 24-26, 2014.

Competitors battled for medals and prizes in the sports of Snowboard, Ski and Snowmobile. Snowboarder X and Snowmobile Long Jump will return to the X Games Aspen list of disciplines in 2014 after a brief hiatus. ♦

getting & staying FIT

staying in shape for the SLOPES

A couple of circuits of strength exercises, combined with a 15-20 minute aerobic workout two or three times a week and you'll be powering down the slope like never before.

Spending a full day on the slopes can be tiring even for the fittest individual. Can't imagine how bad someone would feel if they weren't in shape.

To ensure total strength and fitness in your legs, a combination of strength & endurance training and cardio exercises is recommended.

The strength training should cover all the major muscles of the lower body, hamstrings (back of thighs), quads (front of thighs), glutes (butt muscles) and calves.

And for obvious reasons, any exercise that challenges your balance would be beneficial not only for strength but for keeping you on your feet on the slope!

STRENGTH & ENDURANCE training

Either use the machines in the gym or do sit-ups and press-ups at home. For boarders who take a lot of hits strong shoulders are important. Here are some simple exercises to do at home.

Wall Squats

Start by standing 12"- 18" from a wall with feet shoulder-width apart, then lean back fully on to the wall, now slowly move your butt towards the floor until your knees are at right angles.

If your feet are closer to the wall than your knees, slowly move them so they are in-line. Maintain this position as long as you can. Time yourself, then add an extra 10 seconds each time you do it.

Lunges

Start with your feet together then take a large step forward with one leg and bend down so the front leg forms a right angle and the back knee almost touches the floor. Make sure you keep your back straight the whole time.

Then go back up and switch legs. Lunges can be done for 20 repetitions followed by a rest. Repeat the procedure four times.

Core strength - stomach, back and sides - is also a key area, especially for beginners or snowboarders who fall over a lot and use this muscle group to get back up.

CARDIOVASCULAR exercise

Any way you can improve your cardiovascular system will help to improve your skiing stamina.

- If you're not a gym junkie, even going for a fast walk will give you a fair cardiovascular work out.
- Walk upstairs instead of catching elevators. Walk up escalators instead of standing still.

- Try whenever possible to get yourself a little out of breath.
- Little and often is better than a long run once a week.
- Cycling, running, rowing or stepping for 20 minutes three times a week will provide a solid base.
- Hitting the treadmill pays huge benefits on the slopes.

STRETCHING

Increased flexibility helps prevent injuries allowing your body to cope more easily with the strange twists which happen from time to time on skis. It also helps to prevent soreness and stiffness during and after skiing. Calf stretching is very important, particularly for beginners. Hamstrings stretches and quad stretches are also vital.

A little stretch every time you do some exercise will increase your flexibility, and you will be glad of it if you have a spectacular wipeout.

Ski technique needs to be learnt but you'll improve much quicker if you have good balance and coordination.

These assets can also help better skiers stay on their feet and recover from a potential wipeout at speed. ♦

avalanche SAFETY

be PREPARED

mentally physically
equipment-wise

Spring brings conditions that are often ideal for an avalanche. The weight of the melting snowpack becomes heavier until reaching the point where the underlying snow is no longer able to support it and lets loose.

February 19, 2012 there was a fatal avalanche in the backcountry of Stevens Pass. All of the people in the group were experienced backcountry skiers, carrying avalanche rescue gear, and skiing the line in sections, one by one, in accordance with standard safety protocol. Four skiers were caught up in the slide. The only survivor, Elyse Saugstad, credits the ABS Airbag she was wearing for saving her life.

The ABS Airbag

For more than 25 years ABS Peter Aschauer GmbH have been dedicated to the prevention of avalanche snow burial by developing airbags for skiers and snowboarders.

The ABS Airbag has rescued over 200 victims during 100 documented real-life scenarios from snow burial. In other words it works.

The most common cause of death in an avalanche is not the injury sustained when the skier or snowboarder is hit by an avalanche but the burial. 90% of cases of death are a result of suffocation and / or due to the enormous pressure of the snow.

Statistically chances of survival drop markedly after 15 minutes. 50% of avalanche victims who are buried are found dead despite the use of transceivers.

The average depth of burial in an avalanche without the ABS Airbag is just over 3 feet. To dig someone out from under 3 feet of snow, there is 71 cubic feet of dense snowpack to be moved, very hard to do within 10 minutes. Keep in mind that probing can alone take 15 minutes.

ABS Activated

A deployed airbag can keep the victim of an avalanche close to or above the surface.

When a skier or boarder pulls the activation handle, this releases pressure that causes a pin to pierce each gas cartridge. The gas then fills the airbags, with suction and release valves taking in air from the surroundings to aid inflation.

It takes just two seconds to inflate both airbags to a total capacity of 170 liters (6 cubic feet). Used canisters can be refilled by ABS for a small charge.

ABS Statistics

Since 1990, the Swiss Federal Institute for Snow and Avalanche Research (SLF) has documented Avalanche Accidents when an ABS airbag was used.

- Of 106 documented cases, 105 people survived.
- Of the 105 people that survived, 90% were not even buried or only partially buried.
- Of the 10% of those completely buried, they were buried so close to the surface that they were easy to locate.
- Statistical Analysis by the International Committee for Alpine Rescue (ICAR) has shown that survival in an avalanche will increase by 98% with the use of an airbag. ♦

GOOD STUFF for the kids & grandkids

A child's helmet should fit firmly and should not be bought to grow into.

Kids ski helmets

If you are thinking about taking your family skiing next winter and you have children, remember the importance of kids ski helmets. Ski helmets are one of the most important pieces of equipment needed for a skiing trip; they can help keep a fun vacation from turning tragic. Even if your child is on the beginner slopes and skis super slow, a helmet is a must. It is important when shopping for the helmet that you get a ski helmet, not a bike helmet or any other sporting helmet.

When choosing the helmet, go to a shop that can help you with sizing, they will know how it should fit and show you how to properly wear the helmet. You want to get one that fits just right and does not disrupt your child's vision or make it hard for him to hear what is going on around him. The helmet should be comfortable, lightweight and warm. The helmets come in many colors and styles so your child is sure to find something that will be cool enough for them to wear without complaining, or at least without too much complaining. Kids ski helmets will give you piece of mind so you can relax and enjoy the trip along with the kids.

Helmets should fit firmly; this is not an item that you want your kid to grow into.

How to Fit a Kids Helmet

By now, most skiers and snowboarders are well aware of the safety benefits of wearing a ski helmet. Not only do they keep the head safe, on cold days they provide more warmth than even the warmest hat.

Just remember that an ill-fitting helmet is the equivalent of not wearing any helmet at all. Here are some important guidelines to follow when fitting a kid's ski helmet.

1. Measure it. Start by wrapping a measuring tape around your child's head. The helmet should overlap the tape.
2. Try it On. First, align the rim of the helmet with your child's eyebrows. While holding the straps on both sides, roll the helmet to the back of your kid's head.

3. Watch the Gaps. You will want to make sure that the pads of the helmet are flush against your child's cheeks and forehead. Make certain that the back of the helmet is not touching his or her neck.
4. Give it a Roll. Have your child roll his or her head as if they were trying to dislodge the helmet. The helmet should stay on if the fit is correct.
5. Goggle test. Make sure that your child's goggles fit with the helmet. There should be no gap between the top of the goggles and the rim of the helmet.
6. Let it Breathe. Many helmets now come with a ventilation system. This prevents overheating.

To make wearing a helmet fun, consider some of the helmet cover designed by Helmet Headz. (www.headztrong.com/)

Helmet covers come in various styles, including animals and princesses, and have an added benefit that it's impossible to miss your kids if they are wearing one of these. ♦

ENVIRONMENT review

SUSTAINABILITY is paying off

more than 75% of US ski resorts have some kind of sustainability program

Excerpted from saminfo.com

The National Ski Areas Association (NSAA) today released its Sustainable Slopes Annual Report detailing the ski industry's progress in implementing the principles of its Environmental Charter during the 2012-13 season.

Among the Highlights

115 ski areas endorsed the Climate Declaration. The Declaration calls upon federal policy makers to take action to address climate change, and states that addressing climate change is one of the greatest economic opportunities of the 21st century.

The Climate Challenge Program asks for resorts to inventory, target and reduce their greenhouse gas emissions (GHGs).

Participating resorts include Alta Ski Area, Arapahoe Basin, Boreal Mountain

Overall, these areas reported approximately 115,000 MTCO<sub>2</sub>e of emissions in 2012; by 2020, they are committed to reducing emissions by at least 38,500 MTCO<sub>2</sub>e—about 34 percent.

The report also highlights the latest environmental projects and programs at ski areas across the country including lighting improvements, electric vehicle use, composting, local purchasing programs, water conservation efforts, and employee and guest education as it relates to sustainability.

More than 190 resorts now endorse the association's Environmental Charter, and those resorts represent about 75 percent of the ski industry's annual skier and snowboarder visits.

The report also notes that to further environmental goals, the 2014 NSAA Winter Conferences in Steamboat, Colo., and Mount Snow Vt., will feature a two-day environmental education track.

PARALYMPICS sochi

I caught much of the Paralympic ski action on TV. It was absolutely amazing to see what these athletes were able to accomplish.

There are only 5 categories of games— Alpine Skiing, Biathlon, Cross Country Skiing, Ice Sledge Hockey and Wheel chair Curling. Alpine skiing has three sub-categories— blind, standing, sitting.

Host Russia finished strong with 80 medals (a record) and 30 golds. The next highest nation was Ukraine with 25 medals and nine golds. The U.S. (in third) totaled 18 medals (its most at a Winter Games since 2002) and two golds.

Additionally, Russian skier Roman Petushkov won the most individual gold medals in Winter Paralympic history, with six golds across skiing and biathlon events. ♦

PARK CITY turns 50

Skier's Subway carried skiers as if they were miners.

Trams used for hauling ore were converted to chairlifts.

Early Park City miners used what were called "longboard snowshoes" as early as the 1880s for transportation to the mines, but by the 1920s, skiing was becoming a recreational sport.

Scandinavian miners built a jump on the Creole Mine dump, (now the Creole ski run to the Town Lift), and held jumping tournaments. Park City's young adults formed the Park City Ski Club and guided kids and adults on ski tours on the hills that one day would become Park City Mountain Resort.

Treasure Mountain

The present resort was opened on December 21, 1963 as Treasure Mountain by United Park City Mines. This company was the last surviving mining corporation in Park City, and the resort was opened with funds from a federal government program meant to revive the economically depressed town.

Mine company officials urged the townspeople to hang on to their real estate because, they said, "it will be valuable some day." At the time, a town lot and house were worth about $500.

Original Gondola at Treasure Mtn.

When it originally opened, Treasure Mountain boasted the longest gondola in the United States, as well as a double chairlift, a J-bar lift, base and summit lodges, and a nine-hole golf course.

The gondola was a four passenger Polig-Heckel-Bleichert (PHB, a German aerial ropeway company). Its sister lift was built at Sugarloaf/USA in Carrabassett Valley, Maine, after top members of Sugarloaf's management visited Park City's lift.

A special Skier's Subway was used to transport skiers nearly 2.5 miles into the mountain through the pitch-black Spiro Tunnel on a mine train.

Skier's Subway through Spiro Tunnel.

The Skier's Subway carried skiers like they were silver miners. Skiers climbed into modified mining trolleys and were pulled to the Thaynes Hoist, where they boarded the old mine elevator and were lifted 1,750 feet to the surface near the Thaynes chair lift.

From there skiers could access the whole mountain. No other ski lift was like it in the world, but it ran just four winters. Although skiers thought it was memorable, they also found it slow, and some thought it was too creepy!

Aerial trams once used for hauling ore were converted into chairlifts. To this day, there are still more than 1,000 miles of old silver-mine workings and tunnels beneath the slopes at Park City Mountain Resort and its neighboring resort, Deer Valley.

Park City Mountain Resort

Treasure Mountain's name was changed to the Park City Ski Area for its fourth season of 1966-67, and in 1996, became known as the Park City Mountain Resort. The resort has grown to include eight peaks and nine bowls, with 3,300 acres of skiing and 16 chairlifts. The resort has also developed summer activities including an alpine slide, alpine coaster, zip-lines, and several hiking and biking trails.

A sister ski area, known as Park City West (renamed Wolf Mountain and now known as Canyons Resort) opened in 1968, and Deer Valley Resort opened in December 1981, at the site of the former Snow Park (1946-69).

2002 Winter Olympics

During the 2002 games, the resort hosted the men's and women's giant slalom, men's and women's snowboarding parallel giant slalom, and both men's and women's snowboarding halfpipe events.

The resort's Eagle Race Arena and Eagle Superpipe were used as the Olympics runs. Temporary stadiums were erected at the end of each run with spectator standing areas on each side, creating a combined capacity of 16,500 persons.

During the games, 96 percent of the resort was open to normal seasonal operations, making it the only venue to allow spectators to leave and reenter. ♦

Aspen native John Clendenin was one of the early pioneers of freestyle skiing. He founded the International Freestyle Skiers Association in 1973 and won World Championship titles in 1973 and 1974. Clendenin appeared in a host of ski films from noted producers Dick Barrymore, Joe Jay Jalbert and Greg Stump, developed the Clendenin Ski Method and authored "Four Words for Great Skiing."

Toby Dawson was orphaned in Korea, then raised by parents in Vail where he discovered mogul skiing. He reached the pinnacle of his career by taking the World Championship in 2005 and Olympic bronze a year later. He remains a global leader in the sport, introducing his birth nation to mogul skiing and serving a key role with the 2018 Olympics in PyeongChang.

Kris "Fuzz" Feddersen has impacted freestyle skiing as an athlete, coach and business leader. In 14 years as an aerialist on the U.S. Freestyle Ski Team, Feddersen amassed 23 podiums. As a coach, he played a key role in the gold medal sweep of U.S. aerialists at the 1998 Olympics in Nagano. As a co-founder of Flying Ace Productions, he has brought the excitement of action sports to tens of thousands worldwide.

Joe Jay Jalbert began his film career as a production assistant and ski double for Robert Redford in the 1969 classic film "Downhill Racer." From industry product launches to television specials, the Emmy award winning producer has over 800 productions to his credit, including four official Olympic and 14 FIS World Championship films. Jay was presented the FWSA Warren Miller Award in 2005.

Twenty-five years after breaking onto the scene, Scot Schmidt remains one of the most recognized and filmed skiers in the world, having appeared in more than 40 films. Schmidt pioneered a style that inspired generations of adrenaline-sport athletes and made "extreme" a household word. His impact in the 1980s set the stage for dramatic changes in the sport.

The late Jerry Simon enjoyed a career that touched almost every corner of the sport. From his start in 1964 with Harry Leonard's ski shows through pioneering the Skiing Mechanics and Managers Workshop, from producing the SkiGroup resort marketing shows to creating the International Ski Film Festival, Simon served the industry and the public alike. Jerry received the FWSA Snowsports Builder Award in 2008.

US SKI TEAMS win big on the slopes

Winter Olympics was held at Rosa Khutor Alpine Resort, February 9–22, 2014

Slopestyle US Sweep

Joss Christensen led an American sweep in the first-ever men's slopestyle final.

Gus Kenworthy and Nick Goepper captured silver and bronze, respectively.

David Wise

David celebrated his Men's Freestyle Skiing Halfpipe medal.

Maddie Bowman

Maddie celebrated her Women's Freestyle Skiing Halfpipe medal.

Mikaela Shiffrin

Mikaela, age 18, became the youngest champion in slalom in Olympic alpine skiing when she won the gold. Mikaela went on to repeat her performance in slalom on the World Cup circuit winning her second globe.

Ted Ligety

Ted won gold in his signature event, giant slalom, a second career gold medal for him. He became the first American man to win gold in giant slalom. Ted went on to capture another World Cup globe in giant slalom, his fifth title.

Julia Mancuso

Julia has won medals in the last three Olympics— Gold in giant slalom in Torino, 2 Silvers in Vancouver for downhill and super combined and bronze for super combined in Sochi. Julia is not ruling out coming back in 2018 for another Olympics.

Jamie Anderson

Jamie celebrated after winning the women's snowboard slopestyle final. There was a lot of ugliness out on the supersized Olympic slopestyle course that day — crashes, splashes, face plants, even a cracked helmet.

Mikaela Shiffrin becomes youngest skier to captures Slalom gold.

*Bode Miller
Andrew Weibrecht*

Bode and Andrew finished third and second in the super-G, respectively. Bode's sixth career medal broke his own record as the most decorated US skier, and made him, at 36, the oldest Olympic Alpine medal winner.

Sage Kotsenburg

Sage celebrated after completing his run during the final of the snowboard slopestyle in Sochi.

He liked it and so did the judges as the 20-year-old American clinched the first gold of the 2014 Winter Games.

Kaitlyn Farrington

Kaitlyn celebrates her gold medal victory in the Ladies' snowboarder halfpipe.

Kelly Clark

Kelly wins a bronze medal in the Ladies' snowboarder halfpipe.

Alex Diebold

Underdog Alex won the U.S. team's only snowboardcross medal at this Olympics, a bronze.

Four years ago, Alex was a wax tech. Alex continued to race the World Cup circuit, without a sponsor, hoping to make the Olympic team.

Devin Logan

Devin took the Olympic silver medal in Ladies' ski slopestyle. She never doubted that her surgically repaired knee (torn ACL, MCL plus two microfractures) would be ready for the Olympics. Doctors said her injury was one of the worst they'd ever seen.

Hannah Kearney

Hannah, bronze moguls medalist, was obviously disappointed in not winning back-to-back golds in moguls. She is one of the best having not just won the gold in 2010 and this bronze, but 27 of 37 World Cup races in the four years between. She won the World Cup globe again this year.

BIG WHITE early season

*Five feet of fresh powder and more of it in the trees.
 The skiing was beyond awesome.*

This is our eighth annual December trip to Big White in hopes of catching some of that early season powder. The snow was the best we've seen in early December and it was the best the west had to offer.

The highlight of the trip was the Big Reds at Big White. This event just gets bigger and better every year. Wines were provided by the local wineries of the Okanagan region from Kelowna to Osoyoos. Food was provided by the local restaurants of Big White.

And while the whole Big White program hadn't yet kicked all the way in, there were a few of the activities offered. There was free hot chocolate at the skating rink at Happy Valley. There was also a night of free tubing with a big bonfire. This was so much fun that you must do it. The fireworks display was incredible and we could watch it from our deck. ♦

it's a WRAP

Pacific Rim's Fire 'n Ice Team raised more than $2,300 for MS.

What a beautiful weekend at Squaw Valley for the 29th Annual Vertical Express for Can Do MS! Great conditions made for exciting competition on and off the snow. Twelve teams did an amazing job of bringing the CAN DO spirit to the mountain by raising over $35,000!

Our wonderful host, Squaw Valley USA, provided our group with a terrific room. They provided breakfast both morning and a terrific après ski party on Saturday.

Saturday, March 1, 2014

The day started with a continental breakfast and an opportunity to meet the other teams. Our team hooked up with our last year's team Catherine Rudiger and her brother Carl for the poker run. They know the mountain and we don't. Our efforts netted us 2 pairs but we had fun and found some incredible powder.

After lunch we headed to the NASTAR race course on the Gold Express. It was fun and easy. We did okay. Our team mate Catherine was the fastest woman.

While we are at it, THANK YOU Sid Crockett and your race shack crew for the amazing dual NASTAR course. Every year for as long as anyone can remember he has made all us weekend warriors feel like Mosleys and Mancusos!

Saturday's après party was a lot of fun. There was awesome wine and as usual and amazing hand crafted beers courtesy of Tied House Brewing.

Sunday, March 2, 2014

Sunday morning breakfast included the awards portion of the weekend. Pacific Rim can in third and the Rudigers came in second. We got a back pack and some extra bottles of the micro brews.

We have until April 1, 2014 to raise more money. You can go to our fund raising page at <http://www.gifttool.com/athon/MyFundraisingPage?ID=1795&AID=2546&PID=412013> to make a donation. ♦

womens ski jumping USA

RusSki Gorki Jumping Center

The fact is the debut of women ski jumpers on the Olympic stage provided plenty of drama on many fronts.

Jessica Jerome and teammate Lindsey Van, the sport's first world champion from 2009, both realized their Olympic dream after so many years of fighting to make it a reality.

2013 World Champion Sarah Hendrickson, who reached the pinnacle of the sport last season before injuring her knee in August, completed a grueling rehabilitation just to make the Olympic team and to jump in the Games. She is scheduled for more surgery after the end of the season.

There was a camaraderie that all of the girls shared because they've all been fighting the same fight for so many years, the fight to get Womens Ski Jumping into the Olympics. At the top of the jump everyone was high-fiving and enjoying the moment as they made history.

Ski to Defeat ALS

The annual Ski to Defeat ALS will be at Mt. Hood Meadows on April 12, 2014. The goal is to raise $150,000.

Fred is not only the event's Honorary Chairman, he is committed to raising awareness and funding for The ALS Association. This is the next and final chapter in Fred's amazing and inspiring life. Fred was diagnosed with ALS in December 2010 and is in the final stage.

Often referred to as Lou Gehrig's Disease, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) is a progressive, fatal neuromuscular disease that slowly robs a person of their ability to walk, speak, swallow and eventually breathe.

The life expectancy of a person with ALS averages only 2 to 5 years from the time of diagnosis. In a very short period of time, the person and their family need a myriad of services and support. The ALS Association is their one-stop-shop. Visit www.skitodefeats.org/.

Fred Noble and his Ski to Defeat ALS Fredinator Team. Fred needs to raise $167K this year to reach the half million mark in raising funds for ALS.

USARC

United States Adaptive Recreation Center (USARC) is committed to guiding people with disabilities toward the creation and affirmation of rewarding lifestyles. Located in Big Bear, CA, USARC runs an adaptive ski school in the winter. In the summer USARC takes to the fresh waters of Big Bear Lake for wet and wild adaptive water sports.

Volunteers are always needed. Volunteers must be at least 18 years old; intermediate skiers, water sports enthusiasts, or mountain bikers; able to complete the required training criteria, and available to teach midweek.

To volunteer contact Sara Richter, Outreach Coordinator, sara@usarc.org.

Recycle Program

Pacific Rim recycles cans, bottles and glass at all our events. Each quarter we donate the proceeds to a charity.

This quarter's donation goes to Ski to Defeat ALS. To donate to a Far West Ski Association team visit http://webor.alsa.org/site/TR?px=4048952&fr\_id=9900&pg=personal.

aaron KARITIS

On Saturday March 15, 2014, 31-year-old Aaron Karitis was caught in an avalanche near the Kicking Horse Valley west of Haines, Alaska while heli-ski guiding for Southeast Alaska Backcountry Adventures. Aaron survived his injuries until late Monday night.

Ironically, Aaron was scheduled to speak at the Far West Ski Convention on avalanches.

Aaron, a native of Bend, Oregon and owner/founder of Pulseline Adventure, loved and respected the mountains of Alaska with every fiber of his being.

With an impeccable safety record and extensive avalanche education, Aaron always aired on the side of caution. On Saturday, his conduct put the safety of his clients first.

Aaron dug a snow pit that indicated snow conditions were safe to ski on. (This very snow pit has since been evaluated, confirming Aaron's original assessment as accurate.)

He ski cut the top of the slope to further investigate stability. This ski cut produced no results, also indicating that snow conditions were presumably safe.

Aaron told his group that he would ski down slope. As Aaron skied, a large avalanche was triggered mid slope, carrying him approximately 700 feet down the slope.

Fellow guides located Aaron (who was wearing a beacon) and extracted from four feet of snow within 15 minutes. Resuscitation efforts began immediately. He was air lifted to Haines and then transported to Anchorage.

Aaron's youth, strength, and excellent health will soon help to save more lives through organ donations.

RIP Aaron, you will be missed. ◆

About Pacific Rim

Pacific Rim Alliance is all about skiing. We were formed with the express notion of never having to attend a meeting.

Originally we were all about skiing exotic resorts in Europe, South America and New Zealand. These have been scaled back due to the weak economy. We are now resuming them.

We have gotten into the groove of running early and late season ski weeks to Big White Ski Resorts in Canada. These trips run about $700 per person and include hotel lodging (double occupancy), 6-day lift ticket, ground transfer from/to the Kelowna airport and various parties. We believe that Big White offers the best and most consistent early and late snow.

We do not offer Mammoth trips since there are so many ski clubs in both the Los Angeles Council and San Diego Council that offer quality affordable bus trips to Mammoth. Just ask and we'll direct you.

We believe in giving back to our ski community.

- ◆ Our major fund raiser is our annual wine maker dinner for Can DO MS. To date we have raised more than $34,000.
- ◆ We encourage members to participate in other on-snow fund raisers for so many good causes— Hope on the Slopes (for cancer), Ski to Defeat ALS, USARC Ski-a-thon (for adaptive skiers) and the Jimmie Heuga Vertical Express (for Can Do MS.)
- ◆ We also support junior racers (through the Far West Ski Foundation), Women's Ski Jumpers USA and the Unrecables.

Official Documents

We are a 503(c)7 not-for-profit corporation founded in 1997 and incorporated in the state of Nevada. We file a Form 990 yearly. A currently copy of our Bylaws and Articles of Incorporation can be found via a link on our home page.

Liability waiver are required for membership on all trips and events. Trip waivers are included in trip packages mailed out to all participants.

Skiing History

We have a collection of skiing history of ski clubs, councils, the Far West Ski Association and ski resorts in the west. It is a work in progress updated regularly by our Club historian. If you have any history you would like to share, contact Catherine Ohl at ohl@acatmeowz.com. Visit our web site at pacificrimalliance.org/history/html.

Conduct Policy

This policy applies to all persons participating in a Pacific Rim Alliance Event. All participants are requested to observe common courtesy and generally accepted standards of social and moral behavior.

- ◆ There is a Zero Tolerance Policy on illegal drug use at any sponsored event or trip.
- ◆ Alcohol and tobacco use is allowed in moderation and where permitted by law.
- ◆ There is a strict policy prohibiting sexual harassment and harassment because of race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, disability, medical condition, marital status, sexual orientation, age, or any other basis made unlawful by any applicable law or ordinance or regulation.
- ◆ Profanity and off-color humor is only permitted if it is not offensive to other participants.
- ◆ Parents/Legal Guardians of minor children under the age of 18 are responsible for the supervision and behavior of their children.
- ◆ Board Members will attempt to resolve problems in a mutually beneficial manner. When resolution cannot be achieved, the proper authority will be called to resolve the problem.
- ◆ Participants who violate our Conduct Policy may be excluded from future trips without reimbursement of expenses.

FWSA Recognition Programs

Far West Ski Association has an extensive recognition and awards program. There are a number of programs for individuals. Submittal deadline is March 20. Details and applications can be found at <http://fwsa.org/MemberCorner/Programs/programs.html>.

- ◆ Safety Person of the Year wins a ski trip for two to Steamboat, CO.
- ◆ Ski Heritage Awardee wins a ski trip for two to Aspen/Snowmass, CO.

National Learn-to-Ski & Safety Months

We encourage our members to participate in the National Bring-A-Friend challenge (<http://www.bringafriend.org/>). There are some incredible deals for first time skiers. It's a great way to get your friends safely on the slopes. Another significant program is National Ski Safety Month (www.nsaa.org/safety-programs/national-safety-month/).

Use your brain, it's the most important part of your equipment.
